Dear Member

There have been/are many news articles around Business Interruption Insurance. As an association, our numerous updates have also included this subject, Update No21 & No15 in particular.

Here is news article published earlier today for your reference:

- <https://www.theguardian.com/business/2020/may/01/fca-uk-watchdog-court-clarify-coronavirus-business-insurance>

With that in mind, please could you kindly take a look this group below, which is a national campaign put together by an SME in London and complete their associated form:

Please note that this is in ADDITON to what the EHA itself is undertaking on your behalf which we first reported, on the 15th April'20:

Insurance Update

After a productive meeting last Thursday, we were able to update that the EHA are leading the Insurance project group and offering a triage service to EHA, Chamber and BID members. So far there have been a few cases that have been identified whereby a claim should be indemnified. If you haven't already done so and would like to access this support, please complete the questionnaire and send through your Policy Wording and Policy Schedule through to the office. Traction is starting to happen within the press and it's been reported that the FCA are now applying pressure to Insurers. This might be something that is a win for the many but we will explore any avenue to support the membership.

Take care & kind regards
